

The HORRENDOUS, UNPROFESSIONAL handling of the three teens missing and apparently deceased in one of New York City's waterways who were apparently handicapped by the neanderthal apparatus and plural present, including the receiver of their apparent call for help. Carefully, thoroughly revising the rules for PROMPT, ACTUAL emergency services via telecommunications and other applicable communications IS ESSENTIUAL, NOT AN ADJUNCT, as presently assumed and practiced by the powers that be and their functionaries and minions.

Well, enough said.
